Hartman Value Profile Correct Answers The Hartman Value Profile (based on the work of Robert S. Hartman, Ph.D.) measures a person's capacity to think and make value judgments. Through years of academic research, Dr. Hartman discovered mathematical principles that undergird the way we think and value. These principles form the core of Axiology, the science of values and valuing. The Hartman Value Profile | James Mueller & Associates The Hartman Value Profile and its underlying science attempt to measure and model primarily two things: How good things are. There's a specific definition related to the description and attributes of those things, combined with how well the attributes and descriptions correspond to the thing. How highly people value those things. The Hartman Values Profile Assessment Write the number "1" in the box by the quotation you agree with most -- that is, the one which has the highest (most) value in your life. Write the number "2" in the box by the quotation you agree with next most (second most). The Hartman Value Profile The Hartman Value Profile provides objective, quantitative results because it is based on mathematics and science. The results provide a personal "roadmap" that provides clarity and direction. When you know your values and how they influence you, it becomes much easier to make better decisions. Hartman Value Profile, The Key to Understanding You ... Robert S. Hartman, "I am morally good if I am as I am. All the words of ethics mean this very same thing, this identification of myself with myself; being sincere, honest, genuine, true, having self-respect, integrity, authenticity."
